Organisations directly concerned with the health, education, safety, crime prevention and social well being of people in Wales, have embraced the Wales Accord on the Sharing of Personal Information (WASPI) as a tool to help them share personal information effectively and lawfully. The consistent approach promoted by WASPI, and the good practice shared via this website, help organisations to meet their data protection responsibilities as they move to collaborative service models within a changing legislative landscape.

Data sharing code of practice

Please note: This code has not been updated since the Data Protection Act 2018 became law. We are working on updating the code and have launched a call for views. The updated code will explain and advise on changes to data protection legislation where these changes are relevant to data sharing. It will address key aspects of the new legislation including transparency, lawful bases for processing, the new accountability principle and the requirement to record processing activities.
